

1) Why is water essential for life?

Water is essential for life because it supports vital biological processes. It helps regulate body temperature, transports nutrients, and removes waste from the body. Additionally, water serves as a medium for chemical reactions in cells, making it indispensable for survival.

2) Why is CS?

Computer Science.